

Area relinquishment or surrender for coal and minerals

This context diagram shows your reporting obligations for area relinquishment and surrender.

Note:

- You must lodge a report whenever you relinquish or surrender areas from your exploration permit, mineral development licence or coal or oil shale mining lease.
- This includes partial or final relinquishment of the resource authority.
- Each report must provide a full technical summary of the authorised activities, including maps, and a digital copy of all data assay results and any geophysical, geochemical, drilling or remote sensing data.

Further information:

<https://www.business.qld.gov.au/industry/mining/applications-compliance/lodging-statutory-reports>

